Difference between Bullying and Banter

Banter	Bullying
Bob was pumping a Football to make it not flat and playable. But then his football exploded and his friends laughed . Bob laughed aswell and countined to laugh for long and Bob didn't really matter of it.	Josh was walking home from school until his friends saw his new backpack and started spreading rumours about it saying ' Eww! And Disgust and trash! ' when Josh realised he started crying and wouldn't forgive them.

What feelings might Bob have?

Do you think Bob was okay with it or not okay with it?

Overall do you think Bob is alright with it?

What feelings might Josh have?

Do you think Josh was okay with it or not okay with it?

Overall do you think Josh is alright with it?

Challenge: What did you learn today from this Bullying and banter?

Banter	Bullying
1. Nick was playing tennis against his brother Chris, Nick scored and Chris's friends said, "Your hand eye coordination is not good! Focus on the ball!" Chris, Nick and his friends shared a laugh . He went on and had a good time.	2. Eliana was in class and had a new hairstyle , she thought it was really pretty and worked hard on it. She started wearing the hairstyle daily but her friend was saying rude comments. "Your hair isn't neat and it looks bad!" She was hurt but her friend didn't care. Her friend did it several times on purpose .
THIS IS OKAY AS LONG AS YOUR FRIEND IS NOT UPSET	THIS IS NOT OKAY! ELIANA WORKED HARD AND WAS HURT.

Tudor Fact File on Sketchpad

Tudor

Tudor lifestyle

Most people in Tudor times lived in country villages. The land was divided up into estates owned by rich landowners, or gentlemen. People lived on these country estates, either working for the landowner in exchange for a house and food, or renting farmland from them.

tudor houses

Tudor homes are known for their steeply pitched, multiple gable roofs, large decorative half-timbering (exposed wood framework with masonry or stucco infill), prominent elaborate chimneys, and often groupings of windows with prominent trim

Tudor schools

Tudor schools were not a unified system, but rather a collection of private and religious institutions that primarily served elite boys, with some parish schools and apprenticeships available for others

Tudor life!

typically a chamber with a hole in a wooden or stone bench over a pit or cesspit, with waste often emptying into the River Thames or a moat.

recognized by their prominent timber framing, a black and white look from exposed tarred wooden beam and plastered walls, and a jetty or overhang on upper storey that added space.

While Tudor is a well-known brand, it is not a manufacturer of mobile phones. The name 'Tudor' is primarily associated with two different entities: the Swiss watch company and the English royal dynasty. It appears you may have encountered references to 'Tudor phones' through searches that led to other companies or products that share the name.
